Important Notice: Please be aware that Wednesday 23rd June 2027 (all day) has been designated as a national examination contingency day. This date may be used if any exam must be rescheduled due to national or significant local disruption.

It is essential that all students remain available on this day and do not book holidays during this period, even if their final scheduled exam has already taken place.

While it is hoped that this contingency date will not be required, if it is used and a student is unable to attend due to holiday or other commitments, no marks will be awarded for that paper.
